Karen A. Sunday is a California licensed Commercial Real Estate Broker and owner of Karen A. Sunday & Associates in Newport Beach. She is a Commercial Leasing and Sales expert with over 30 years of successfully representing Property Owners and Tenants.

She is a Top Orange County Real Estate Broker.

Karen builds long term relationships with her clients by taking the time to understand the client's vision at present and is dedicated to making recommendations and transactions that will benefit a client long term through strategy, analysis and successful implementation.

She has leased over a million square feet and has sold several buildings to users and investors in OC.

She works on each assignment with tremendous enthusiasm, tenacity and dedication. Her history and experience as both a Landlord's representative and a Tenant advocate, provide her clients with a wealth of market knowledge, transaction expertise and negotiating skill.

Karen Sunday started in commercial real estate brokerage right out of undergraduate Business school at USC after she put herself through college and attended USC on academic scholarships. She is a sports enthusiast playing golf most of her life and plays in many Charity Golf Tournaments and has a home in Indian Wells Country Club.
